Good Morning,

I want to also clarify that the Dance teacher is Ms Cassie, the vendor that called Ms White, "a Black B". I resigned from the Winter Concert because Ms Barera asked me to run sound and play DJ for the show. I am not avoiding the District provided Dance teacher, just the abusive friend of Ms Ali.

Enjoy your vacation...I know we all need it.

Musically yours,

Good Morning,

Thank you for the digital copies of the bulletins reviewed in our meeting last week. You won't hear the families complain about me because they know that I take care of their scholars, despite the school's foolishness. This is my first write up; I keep my clothes on; I don't cuss people out; and I do my job....

I'm grateful for your 11 page memo. Did you interview Mr B or Ms Angie who run LA's Best? I leave instruments in the auditorium every concert, over night because I usually manage the instruments alone....but because of this mess, the classroom teachers are now responsible for the equipment...of course not Ms Ali.

Ms Ali doesn't do anything for the Music Magnet. I ran concerts my first year and the previous Music teacher, Ms Diaz (who resigned to be the Magnet Coordinator) also didn't do anything. Ms Mayes sat in her classroom for 2 days while I babysat her G4 Music Magnet class while producing the concert. Ms Persons and Ms Harris thought it was funny that I cared so much. My second year, Ms Persons said that I could get an assistant to help out. Ms Diaz quit because she didn't want to be coordinator at our school anymore and Ms Ali joined us. Ms Ali said that she ran shows, so it seemed like a great fit. Ms Ali hasn't done anything but walk around and spend the school's money on her friends.

In Ms Harris' statement, she forgot to mention that she asked me several times why I was bringing instruments into the auditorium as I came into the auditorium. When she spoke to Ms Rodriguez and I, Ms Rodriguez jumped up and went back to her group. Ms Harris resumed peppering me with questions about the instruments again. She changed the song and started asking more questions that I didn't know the answers to. The fact that she told you that she said that I told her "Well, I need to know what everybody is doing" is false. I said that I didn't know what everyone is doing. Which proves another lie that I was so loud that I disrupted a professional development activity...I knew she couldn't hear me. How could Ms Persons hear me get loud, but Ms Harris couldn't hear while in front of me?

Just like last year when Ms Persons had Mr Handy removed from Hillcrest when Ms Craig did her presentation. The teachers are usually on their phones waiting for the meetings to end. I sit in the same second row of the auditorium every week and most times I have to ask for materials to be included in the professional developments. Why would 19.Nov.2024, my third year at Hillcrest, be different?

Ms Persons account also contradicts Ms Harris about her asking me about the instruments in the auditorium before her presentation.

I've never had to ask permission to send mass emails. I responded to Ms Martin-Solis and the entire staff when the office reassigned my mailbox to Ms Brown. I got a new box shortly after. I asked several people in the office what happened to my box and they all suggested that it was someone else's responsibility until the mass email.

The Music Magnet is out of compliance. I was here when we had our last evaluation. The things that we were out of compliance for were having regular meetings and the classroom teachers having music in the classrooms...both are still a problem.

The link is from the professional development regarding child abuse. Nico is a groomer by the District's definitions. The first example is a nosey student, but here at Hillcrest, Nico showed his account to the scholars. He was put out of my classroom because he didn't want to do his work and would be surfing the internet with the musicians.

One of his jobs was to assemble the workstations, but he tricked his mom and Ms Ali into doing it in Mr Durazo's office...lol. We'll see how long that lasts...A grown man isn't going for Nico's mess.

I haven't signed in daily at all this semester. Nico lied again and said that I said something to him, so I try to avoid him. Because he comes on campus haphazardly, I never know when to miss him, except for staff meetings. I usually sign in for the previous week on Tuesdays.

On Dec 3, I came to school at 7:40 as usual. I was writing a complaint to Ms Espinoza in my room. No one called my room. No once came to my room. I wasn't paged over the intercom....I can hear it from my bedroom window. My neighbors hate that they leave the bells on over the holidays and weekends. When I'm absent, I write emails. When I'm late, I also write emails.

The Hillcrest liars are so silly, school is out at 1:25 on Tuesdays. Why would I cross the street at 1:59 to come to work?

Regarding the Workplace Violence, Threats, Bullying and Harassment...Those have been acted against me all year because I don't want to play with Ms Persons and her mafia. I paid for Ms Craig, Ms Ali, Nico, and Cassie when we all went out. Ms Ali and Cassie sent me some money, but Ms Craig and Nico didn't. We went out afterschool several times before Nico lied. Ms Craig and I went to dinner the Friday before I put him out of my room in April. Ms Ali cussing me out is a direct response to Ms Persons alliance against me. I took Ms Persons out twice. The first time was just the two of us at a benefit concert at LA Live my first year. The second was also at LA Live and we brought our families and some Magnet students.

The real insanity to be accosted because Nico exposed himself to me at work. I gave him grace by joking about it and now I lose the curriculum that I planned. Ultimately, I started teaching in 1999 when I didn't have any equipment, so I won't teach DJing. Nico's not going to teach it either, unless his momma helps him....of course she will because she knows he can't. He was rejected from Soka University because they knew his mom wrote his application.

Ms Ali ran the Black History concert last year and had the students mock me, and now wants to lead a singing group on campus. She wants to be me so bad, it's amazing. That's why she cussed me out when she had to coordinate.

My honest spirit aggravates all the folks who think they can hide at Hillcrest and do nothing. My first year, in addition to designing a recording studio and teaching, I had choir, daily morning assemblies, 4 concerts, 1 parent presentation and several field trips. This year, I have 6 half-hour classes daily. If you like it, I love it.

Musically yours,

Ω
